

2020 CSAP Sponsor Invitation

Imagine having access to the country's top leaders in speech-language pathology and audiology. Your sponsorship involvement in CSAP would accomplish just that—putting you in touch with state speech-language-hearing association presidents from across the United States. These individuals engage in countless networking opportunities with fellow colleagues who are the up-and-coming leaders in their states.

Through a CSAP sponsorship, state association leaders would learn more about your company and how you can assist them in the treatment of children and adults who have communication disorders or how your company services can help the association grow. Professionals feel more comfortable conducting business with individuals they know and trust.
